- On page 109, in the main copy it should read “Creys–Malville was different from all other existing commercial reactors and was envisioned as a public demonstration that this technology was the way to the future (Le Renard 2018)” rather than Superphénix.
- On page 112, in the main copy it should read “Public protests against Superphénix began as early as 1976, both around the construction site and in nearby cities.” rather than Creys–Malville.
